Description

LAZIO – VITERBO – ISCHIA OF CASTRO
AGRICULTURAL LAND WITH OLIVE TREES

In the countryside of upper Lazio, near the border with Tuscany, land of about 9 hectares, divided into 2 plots about 500 meters apart.

The first lot has a surface of 23000 square meters almost flat composed as follows: about 2 hectares are arable with 60 olive trees, while in the final part of the land, we find about 3000 square meters of woodland. Access to the property is via the municipal dirt road but in excellent condition. There is no well but it can be easily built, finding water at a low depth.

The second lot is located at a distance of about 500 meters, continuing along the same municipal road. It has a surface area of about 67,000 square meters and a composition of half woodland and half bushy arable land. It is all hilly and is located about 250 meters from the Fiora river. Electricity is present in the immediate vicinity.

Excellent investment for those who want to start an agricultural business since there is a significant surface area of cultivable agricultural land available.

The land is located in an area subject to landscape and archaeological constraints.
